

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Jesus is the best known name of all history.

Several communions are announced in this number.

Bro. McFaden has sent in copy for a little tract on baptism.

Christian living is the most powerful religious factor in the world.

The new church building at Williamston, Ohio, is nearing completion.

Bro. Rensch was chosen pastor of the Ashland church last Sunday.

Mrs. S. C. Hostetler, of La Paz, Ind., reports one addition by baptism.

Bro. J. N. Palmer is an instrument of great work in the Lord's hands.

We are glad to know that Bro. D. J. Myers is recovering from his long affliction. He called upon us the 3rd.

Special terms and prospectus for 1895 will appear in the next paper about Oct. 20th.

Sister Harrison writes that her father is better in some respects, but is growing weaker.

The Church at Ashland has decided to hold a communion on the evening of the 19th, Saturday.

W. W. Summers reports two more baptized at College Corner's church at his last appointment.

This paper was published a little later than usual so that announcements might reach us for this issue.

Articles of correspondence are on hand from several brethren which must wait until the next paper is out.

Bro. Rensch was called to his home in Indiana by telegram last Sunday evening. His daughter is seriously sick.

Don't forget that there will be no paper next week, and then you will not wonder what is wrong with your paper.

A number of our brethren are going to the all-day meeting and communion at Fair Haven church, twelve miles east of Ashland.

Just as we closed this paper, a correspondence from Brother Bowman reports eight additions by baptism and one by relation, at Ridgely, Md.

There are several enthusiastic young men studying, at the College, who will make able workers in the ministry when they enter the field again.

Some one who wrote the tract, "The Brethren Church," adds, "Who she is and what she does." It is a curious turn that makes brethren become shes.

I know no blessing so small that it can be reasonably expected without prayer, nor any so great but may be attained by it. —South.

"Thy kingdom come"—when the petition is answered, the nations of the earth will learn war no more. Peace will then prevail as the waves of the sea.

Great men are not always wise, the Psalmist says. This is true of the great men of the world; but he who hath the wisdom from above is both great and wise.

We edited and published the EVANGELIST four years and six months wholly on our own part, and it is very natural to sling off something to fill up these columns.

Our Conferences are as radical as any need be on liquor and tobacco questions; if the spirit of the resolutions are carried into practice, the position of the church will be above criticism.

We have on hand a number of slightly damaged copies of the Quinter and Snyder debate, 304 pages, bound in cloth, which we will sell at ten cents each, by mail postage paid, for 18cts.

We hear that there are quite a number of persons who desire to study in the Theological department, who have not means to spare to come here and are seeking some work here to help themselves through.

Send in your subscription, and get a list of trial subscribers. The paper ought to have a thousand new names within the next two weeks. Divide $1.50 by 4 and gather them in at that price, and we know it will be all right.

Bro. J. H. Ridenour writes: "I wish to say to my correspondents and all churches that may want my services in holding revival meetings during the fall and winter to address me at Bryan, Ohio. I am ready for work now and I want all the work I can do."

Bro. Wm. Keifer dropped in on us suddenly last Thursday, on his way to Prativille, Mich., and reports two baptisms recently—one at Zion Hill church, and one at Fair Haven. Thus the good work goes on. He especially invites the brethren at Ashland to attend the meeting—Oct. 6th.

We intended to say before this that Bro. Haskins stopped over on his way to Johnstown from Michigan and paid us a most royal visit. We especially appreciate the visit of Brethren who are hot in the work of the Lord. Bro. Haskins expects his family—probably they are there now—in a short time, to follow him and then he will be settled for a large campaign for Christ and His cause. We anticipate that his victories over satan will be more memorable than Napoleon crossing the Alps, or Caesar crossing the Rubicon.

We have just printed a tract on the Lord's Day set apart for Religious services. Mailed to any address for 10 cts. It covers the historical side of the subject, and makes prominent the fact that the day on which Christ rose from the dead is six times called Sabbath.

The Brethren of the Buckeye City church will keep the Lord's Supper on Saturday evening, Oct. 13th, and extend an invitation to all that can do so to be in attendance. Brother J. Allen Miller will preach on Sunday morning and evening following, Oct. 14th.—ISAAC ROSS.

Sister Elizabeth Markley, one of the most faithful and blessed of women, who has been a standard in the church here, has moved to Chatham Center, Ohio, to live with her daughter, Sue Homan.

There are few who give the College the honor that is due it in being an instrument in supplying preachers for our church. Bro. J. L. Kimmel, M. C. Myers, J. Allen Miller, J. N. Palmer, E. Hilderbrand, L. W. Ditch, W. C. Perry, Martin Shively, C. E. Deffenbaugh and John Beal are numbered among its patrons.

The Japanese seem to be an instrument of Providence in its rapid conquest the empire is making against China. It reminds the student of the history of Babylon, Greece and Rome, the swift powers of the visions of Daniel's prophecy. It looks now as though the Japanese will march right through the broad Chinese empire.

The business of the office is in rather a chaotic condition at present, and patrons will be patient about replies. As soon as the new editor has settled down to his new duties you may then expect responses. Something which the retiring management could not attend to because it properly belongs to the incoming, and therefore must wait.

Brother Harrison left to his successor the following manuscript: One article from Rosie Bockover, Edmond, Kans., one from Israel Baer, one from Henry Elsie, Eagle Point, Ill., two articles from C. F. Yoder, Warsaw, Ind., two from A. N. Deeter, Covina, Calif., two from P. H. Beaver, Montandon, Pa., one from J. S. Atherton, Beatrice, Neb., one from Walter Clark, Dowagiac, Mich., one from D. C. Moomaw, Roanoke, Va., two from A. O. Humphry, one from L. S. Haven, Farmersville, Ohio, one by James Ridenour, Fostoria, Ohio, one from Clara Flora, two from H. P. Brinkworth, Louisville, Ohio, one from Obed Snowberger, Quincy, Pa., one from J. M. Bowman, Glenford, Ohio.
